Crisis Youth Refuge

Provides safe supported accommodation for young men and women, 15 – 17 years inclusive 24 hrs-7days a week. Accommodation can be provided for one night up to 3 months. During their stay at ASYASS Crisis Refuge young people will also be supported to identify and work towards their goals; address their health, education and income needs; develop appropriate life skills; (re)engage with family (where appropriate); and access long term accommodation where necessary.

Housing Program

Provides semi-independent accommodation (up to twelve months) to young people 16 to 21 years of age. The ASYASS Housing Program currently manages seven units -six two bedroom flats and one single bedroom flat. Four of these units are for singles with children or couples with children and three units are available for singles. These properties are located across Alice Springs. The housing program offers young people who are unable to reside with family, through case management, the opportunity to re-engage with education, training or to gain employment, as well as to develop and strengthen life skills (including living skills) required to establish themselves independently. Where appropriate ASYASS also supports and encourages involvement with family.

Ampe akweke Place (pronounced – umba kooka) “Little Babies Place”

Program for young women 14 to 21 years of age who are having a baby. Ampe akweke offers both outreach support and (non-crisis) residential support, if the women have no where suitable and safe to stay. Young women can stay in the safe house for up to three months. Ampe akweke works with the young women to ensure they have their, their unborn child or their babies health needs met. Ampe akweke family support workers provide parenting education and support as well as case management to all young women accessing the program.

Emergency Relief Program

ASYASS administers Emergency Relief funds to young people who find themselves needing financial assistance in the form of:

- purchase vouchers of a fixed value (eg food, transport or chemist vouchers)
- assistance with rent/accommodation
- assistance to obtain appropriate forms of identification
- part-payment of utility account/s
- material assistance such as blankets, clothing or school needs

- appropriate referrals to other services that help to address underlying causes of financial crisis

Each program area has their own set of practices as determined by target group and service delivery model.*

The NPYWC Youth Program works across the organisation's tri-state region, in WA, SA and the NT. The main activities of the NPYWC Youth Program are to:

- Identify young people who are at risk
- Provide enjoyable and safe recreational activities
- Divert young people from substance misuse, other harmful and anti-social behaviour and entry into the criminal justice system
- Provide case management and support to those most at risk and to their families
- Engage young people with education, employment and community opportunities
- Work collaboratively with other youth service providers and inter-agency forums
- Identify and advocate in relation to gaps in services and programs for young people in the cross-border region
- Pursue initiatives such as leadership training, the Kungka Career Conference⁸, structured school holiday programs and youth committees.

As a remote focussed program, the capacity to provide support services to young people who are living in or travelling to town is very limited. NPYWC Youth Program seeks to collaborate with town-based services; making referrals for young people needing support for extended stays in town, and receiving referrals to support young people who are relocating to a member community.

Early Childhood, Youth and Family Services aims to improve the quality of life of Town Camp families and young people through providing a range of innovative, responsive and culturally appropriate services to meet their needs.

Ketyeye- is a case management service providing family support, parenting education and information to vulnerable families and/or families in crisis with children aged 0-12yrs residing in the Town Camps. Working with an all-of-family approach, Ketyeye works in early, secondary and tertiary intervention stages with the objective to build culturally strong parenting skills and support families by improving their knowledge, skills and capacity for parenting.

Safe Families - enhances outcomes for young Aboriginal people and supporting families to improve their capacity to provide care through the provision of services to all Aboriginal people in Alice Springs. The three components of service provision are:

- Family Support and Outreach - provides interventions for children and families identified as being at risk of family breakdown due to violence. The aim is to enhance skills of families to succeed in staying together as a family.
- Children's Safe House - provides a safe environment for young people escaping family violence. The Safe House provides short-term accommodation and care for six young people aged between seven to fourteen years in collaboration with other agencies where necessary to identify appropriate carers from the child's family and community through culturally informed case management.

- Families Safe Houses - provides a safe environment in Alice Springs for families escaping family violence. It caters for a minimum of 6 families per year who have been made homeless through family violence. The aim is to work with the families to assist them in staying together in safe, stable and independent accommodation.

Youth Activity Service (YAS) - offering young people a broad range of opportunities and support services for over 20 years. This early intervention and diversionary program offers young people the opportunity to learn and have fun in a safe, structured and supportive environment, fostering the development of self esteem, communication skills, conflict resolution and personal responsibility. YAS also addresses issues of accessibility for participants by providing transport, mentoring, nutritious meals and access to equipment, clothing and fees associated with an activity. YAS offers a broad range of sporting, creative and recreational activities and projects to support the physical, social, cognitive and emotional development of children and young people from Alice Springs Town Camps. Program streams include:

- Sport and Recreation
- Multi-media Workshops
- Vacation Care
- Community Events

Drum Atweme - is a drumming group made up of young people from town camps in Alice Springs. The group has about 30 core performers, with another 100 students participating in drumming lessons each week. The Drum Atweme project involves specific activities and approaches such:

- Weekly lessons in music skills for groups of young people during school terms;
- Public performances by the Drum Atweme group at parades, conference openings, festivals and other public events in Alice Springs and interstate;
- Making and maintaining instruments.

The strategies on which this range of activities is based includes:

- A model of early intervention based on working with young people 6 to 18 years of age to develop personal, social and drumming skills, mentoring them as individuals and members of a group, and supporting them to be role models and teachers to other young people;
- A structured environment for participants to learn tolerance, acceptance, communication and negotiation skills;
- Diversion from substance abuse (licit and illicit) and related behavioural issues;
- All participants must have regular attendance at school to participate in Drum Atweme

Community Centres

- Hidden Valley Community Centre - operates as a multi- purpose family resource centre for all members of the Hidden Valley Town Camp community (average population of 300-400). The Centre provides programs and activities which address needs that are identified by the community, which have included art, health, nutrition, sport and youth recreation and assistance with linking people in with other service providers.

- Yarrenyty-Arltere Learning Centre - is a community based intergenerational family resource and learning centre located in the Yarrenyty Arltere (Larapinta) Town Camp. YALC operates as a hub for residents to come and learn, work, and connect with services. It provides programs and activities which address needs that are identified by the community. Programs include a multi-media/computer skills program; 'youth at risk' program; after school and holiday program; parenting program and casual playgroup; it has a social enterprise Yarrenyty Arltere Artists which operates 4 days a week with regular art/craft training and workshops and exhibitions. It provides case work support to advocate for people and assistance linking in with other services and organizations, in particular for residents with drug & alcohol issues.
- Karnte Community Centre - was re-established in 2009 and due to limited funding can only deliver a part time service. Karnte Centre operates as a 'hub' where community members from Karnte, Anthepe and Iparpa Town Camps can meet with service providers, organisations and each other to share messages and stories, be involved in community events and meetings, access available support networks, and participate in community identified and developed activities, projects and programs. Total service population of Karnte, Iparpa and Anthepe is estimated to be approximately 500 people. The Centre delivers nutrition, early childhood after school care, holiday activities and Communities for Children.

Central Australian Youth Link Up Service (CAYLUS) - Support community initiatives that improve quality of life and address substance misuse affecting young people through supply reduction, linking young people to diversionary activities and supporting drug and alcohol treatment programs.

- Anti sniffing
- Rehab support
- Point of sale supply reduction
- Remote youth program development and support including infrastructure and advocacy

The Tangentyere Youth Night Patrol - assists people at risk, including intoxicated people, juveniles, victims of violence and those who are homeless to reduce adverse contact with the criminal justice system. The Youth Night Patrol operates five nights per week, Tuesday to Saturday. Hours of operation are Tuesday 3.30pm-12am and Wednesday- Saturday 6.00pm – 2.30am.

Circuit Breaker Youth Camp Program

The program is aimed at Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal young people aged between 11 and 16 years who are considered 'at risk'. This may include disengagement from education, anti-social behaviour, substance abuse, offending behaviour, and family breakdown. Clients may be referred by the Department of Justice, Juvenile Justice Unit or Department of Child and Families. Camps are run over a two week period and cater for girls and boys separately. Circuit Breaker Camps are designed to strengthen relationships with adults, develop resilience and encourage positive social interactions. Project workers identify and build on participant skills, strengths and interests. Camps run for 14 days at a remote location near Alice Springs. The program uses a variety of experiential learning opportunities including 'Outdoor Adventure Activities', 'Trekking', 'Animal Husbandry', 'Camel Treks', 'Cooking, and Bush Skills.

Community Youth Bike Mechanics Project- Wicked Wheels

There are two components to this project:

i. Community Development Employment Project;

The engagement of 16-24 year old CDEP participants to facilitate the development of work skills and attributes to enhance long term participation in employment, education and training through the following:

- Project Participation & Delivery;
- Training and Supervision of young people aged 10-15 in Bike Mechanics and Riding;
- Non Accredited Training in Bike Mechanics, Sport & Recreation and Youth Work;
- Work Readiness Training

ii. Early Intervention and Diversion Program:

- The engagement of young people aged 10-15 years in an Early Intervention & Diversion Program. The Youth Bike Mechanics Project engages young people through bike mechanics & riding. The project aims to work with disadvantaged young people from Central Australia & has been developed in response to the needs and desires of young people as an alternative to substance abuse, boredom, antisocial behaviour & crime. The project will target young people aged 10-15 years old who are considered to be 'at risk'

Reconnect – is an early intervention program for young people aged between 12-20 years who are homeless, or at risk of homelessness. The service works in the 4 remote communities of Titjikala, Santa Teresa, Mt Liebig and Papunya.

The 2 main ways the service works is to provide :

- individual case work to young people
- group activities for young people.

Aims of the program are to support young people in building their capacity as individuals, and to support the whole of community to build capacity around improving life for young people out bush.

The types of support the Reconnect service gives are:

- Re-engaging young people with school, education and training
- Supporting young people to find work/employment
- Support with Centrelink
- Obtaining birth certificates and ID
- Court and legal support
- Transport (particularly safe transport home to community)
- Family mediation, counselling

- Engagement with community members and services
- Bush trips and connection with country and culture
- Activities eg: Blue Light Discos, camp outs, sporting events, art and craft activities, music workshops, and workshops in youth specific areas such as health, leadership etc
- Advocacy

Reconnect has 2 Fieldworkers and a Team Leader. (one Fieldworker for the eastern communities, and one for the western communities). It also employs community workers on a casual basis.

The Reconnect program also operates a brokerage for young people from these 4 communities to assist with bedding, clothing, transport, food and other essential items.

The Reconnect service works closely with the families of the young people. It also works with community organisations and other services. Reconnect provides referrals to other services where there is need for extra support. Collaboration with other service providers both within Alice Springs and in remote areas is a large part of helping to support the needs of the young people at risk.

Mobile Outreach Service plus (MOS+) - provides a service to for children and adolescents who are presenting with, or are at risk of, trauma resulting from abuse or neglect, or who are displaying problem sexual behaviour. MOS Plus also works with their families/carers and communities. The service area is remote communities within the borders of the Northern Territory. MOS plus staff in the Alice Springs office travel to communities in Central Australia and Barkly.

Services provided at MOS Plus include:

- Therapeutic counselling and other support for children and young people
- Support and advice for family and carers
- Community education programs
- Professional development, training and support/advice for remote-based and other relevant services

The service is voluntary and requires client consent or consent from the legal guardian/s. MOS plus does not investigate allegations of child abuse

DCF Therapeutic Services - program provides intensive therapeutic interventions and a group art therapy program for children in alternative care who are displaying signs of complex trauma resulting from abuse and neglect. The program specialises in tailoring treatments to meet the needs of children in care by supporting integration of trauma experience, promoting resilience and providing psycho-education to families, caregivers, and DCF staff.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION & TRAINING (DET) - Ph: 8951 1605

Operating Hours: Office Hours: 8am – 4.21pm weekdays

Clontarf - The Clontarf Foundation exists to improve the education, discipline, life skills, self esteem and employment prospects of young Aboriginal men and by so doing equip them to participate meaningfully in society. Programmes are delivered in partnership with schools. The programme uses football (and other activities) to attract participants and retain them in schools. Each programme has full time staff who are responsible for mentoring and advocacy with participants. On completion of the programme graduates are assisted to find employment.

Partnership for Success program (Delivered by The Polly Farmer Foundation with DET support) - Indigenous students are intensively mentored via an after school Enrichment Centre program, providing tutoring, homework assistance, additional learning, computer access and recreational activities. Students apply to participate in this program.

Alice Gateways – Centralian - Gateways' integrated curriculum utilizes a middle school approach with three core subjects: Mathematics, English and Integrated Learning. Students are also able to select two or more subjects from a wide range offered at the college. Student's individual learning needs are recognised and may take four years to complete their NTCET. The gateways program provides students with a home base and most classes are conducted within the Gateways area. The teachers are the coaches for the Gateways students and are always available to provide support and guidance. The goal is to move students from engagement to employment.

Alice Outcomes – Centralian - This is an alternative education centre where students can enrol when they can't engage satisfactorily in mainstream education. This can be for many reasons including social, cultural or emotional issues. This is open for students from Year 8 to 12. Students are supported well by teachers and support staff in this area. It also incorporates a young carers program to assist anyone who has a young child to care for to access education and VET.

Attendance Officers, AIEWs working with families and poor attenders - The Department of Education and Training is working with their Aboriginal/ Islander Education workers (AIEW), families, communities, attendance officers and other agencies to improve enrolment, attendance and participation. Initiatives like Frequent Attender Programs, rewarding good attendance and regular home visits to families by the AIEW to help with any issues are all part of the ongoing push to get more students to school. "Every Student Every Day"

Town Camps – student engagement - Buses from most primary schools travel to local town camps to pick up students for school each day

Transition Units in Primary Schools - The majority of primary schools operate a Transition Unit for Indigenous students who have not experienced much time in urban or mainstream schooling. Ideally units are staffed with some Indigenous workers and students are supported while getting used to their new environment. The goal is to eventually move students from the unit into classrooms.

Girls at the Centre (delivered by The Smith Family with DET support) - Girls at the Centre is a program for girls enrolled at Centralian Middle School in years 7 to 9. The aim of the program is to assist the girls to make the most of their education and successfully transition from school to further study and employment. Although the focus is on Indigenous girls, the program is open to all middle school girls at CMS. Components of the program include: The Girls Room (a safe place at school just for girls), Girl Coaches (mentors, advocates, support and program coordination), Breakfast with a Mentor, after school programs and leadership and personal development activities.

Girls Academy (delivered by Role Models and Leaders Australia with DET support) – Program for indigenous and non-indigenous female students at Centralian Senior and Middle Schools. The program provides mentoring, sports and extra curricular activities and is developed to ensure participants develop skills for further education, training and employment, and at the same time provides opportunities improve their sporting and life skills.

The YDU facilitates Youth Justice Conferences involving offenders, family, victims and other involved stakeholders.

Young Men's Program - works with the Youth Diversion Unit actively engaging at-risk or offending youth either through a diversion program or voluntarily and to provide a strong indigenous male role model with the opportunity for community participation, social awareness, accepting responsibility and personal development.

Agencies providing non-direct service delivery

JESUIT SOCIAL SERVICES - Ph: 0428 041 755

Operating Hours:

Jesuit Social Services' vision is 'building a just society'. This can only be achieved by working collaboratively and in partnership with others. We seek to influence hearts and minds to that end. Working collaboratively and building partnership between our program participants, staff, volunteers, government and key decision makers, community, business and the wider society this vision becomes reality in the lives of all. Through building a just society together Jesuit Social Services and the young people they may serve will grow and benefit.

Jesuit Social Services footprint for youth service delivery is currently outside of NT (Victoria/NSW) however it is providing mentoring support to youth service providers through its Research, Policy and Advocacy Unit and presented submissions to the recent Review of the Youth Justice Act and the Select Committee on Youth Suicides in the NT.

Jesuit Social Services services to youth in other jurisdictions include: a) Justice and Crime Prevention (Brosnan Youth Services-the Start Over program; Community Justice Group Conferencing; the Leaving Care program; housing and disability program); b) Mental Health Support and Wellbeing (Connexions program; the Outdoor Experience; Gateway; Artful Dodgers Studio; Support After Suicide; StrongBonds); c) Settlement and Community Building (African program; Vietnamese Welfare Resource Centre; Collingwood Community Information centre; Holy Family Social Services in Mt Druitt, Western Sydney).

This scope of youth services provided by Jesuit Social Services enables them to develop a mix of potential service expertise across a range of youth needs in Alice Springs. Identifying and responding to these needs will be determined as a result of developing partnerships with current youth service providers.

NORTHERN TERRITORY COUNCIL OF SOCIAL SERVICE – NTCOSS – Ph: 8952 8400

Operating Hours: 8:30am – 4:30pm weekdays

NTCOSS is the peak body for the social and community in the NT and an advocate for social justice on behalf of people and communities in the NT, who may be effected by poverty and disadvantage. NTCOSS plays a coordination, advocacy, policy, sector development and leadership role for the social and community sector in the NT. The Youth Policy Officer, an NT-wide position based in Alice Springs, works to facilitate input from youth sector organisations, including those in regional and remote centres in the Northern Territory, to social policy development and advocacy, including input into Government reviews and consultative processes. The Youth Policy Officer has established links with the NT Youth Affairs Network (NTYAN), Australian Youth Affairs Coalition (AYAC) and other state and territory youth peak-bodies.

NTCOSS chairs the Central Australian Youth Justice (CAYJ) Committee. CAYJ advocates for fair and equitable justice processes and outcomes for young people in Central Australia. Where other issues arise CAYJ may refer onto other appropriate bodies/groups (eg child welfare coalition); and will build links with such groups and inform them of what CAYJ is doing. Specifically CAYJ aims to:

- Campaign & lobby for an appropriate Youth Justice System (with a prevention/early intervention focus and a systemic or structural focus); and ensure there is recognition of the unique and specialised needs of children and young people in the Youth Justice System.
- Address the over-representation of young Indigenous people in the criminal justice system (main focus is on court system detention & policing system).

Facilitation of joint training and information dissemination.
